

Arizona Ivy Exhibits Gigantic Leaves and Super Hydration Qualities with Structured Water

In a beautiful example of what structured water can do for plants, in April we compared the growth and health of two similar ivy plants. In the FIRST sample (the 2 pictures at the top) a local restaurant in Arizona was using non-structured RO water and in the SECOND sample structured water was used to water the ivy at a nearby home every 3-4 days. (see the 2 pictures at the bottom). The largest leaves we could find on either vine at that time measured 4-5 inches.
